Take our survey about poverty and you could win $100

L.A. YOUTH POVERTY SURVEY

You could be one of three teens to win $100 by taking our survey about poverty.

The United States is known as the land of opportunity, where with hard work you can achieve anything. But does the American Dream still exist? Millions of Americans today are struggling to pay their bills, find a job, get medical care or have enough to eat. In 2010 more than 46 million Americans lived below the federal poverty line (which means they lived on about $23,000 a year for a family of four), according to the Census Bureau.

By answering this survey, you can help L.A. Youth find out what teens think about poverty, like what they think causes it and if they think there's a way to rise out of it. If you answer every question, you will be entered in a drawing. Three people will be randomly chosen from all the entries to win $100 each.

Please fill out the survey only once. To be eligible to win the money you must answer all the questions and your name, address and phone number must be included.

The deadline is December 1, 2012.

RULES

- 1) Contest entries must be original artwork of Los Angeles County youth ages 13 to 19.
- 2) The work may be done in any medium, including acrylics, oils, charcoal, pencil, pen, watercolor, collage, multimedia, photography or sculpture. The dimensions should be 8 1/2" by 11". Three-dimensional artwork should include a photograph of the artwork.
- 3) Each artist may submit only one entry.
- 4) The artist's name, age, home address and phone number should be included on the back of the artwork. If the artist is in school, the school's name should be included. If the artwork was created as an assigned project in a classroom, the teacher's name should be listed. Artwork will be returned if a return address is provided.

The teen staff of L.A. Youth will select a first-, second- and third-place winner as well as some honorable mentions. The first-place winner and his or her teacher will each receive $100. The second-place winner and his or her teacher will each receive $75, and the third-place student and teacher will get $50 each. Winners and honorable mentions will be published in the May-June 2013 issue of L.A. Youth and on layout.com.

L.A. Youth art contest

1ST PLACE
$100
2ND PLACE
$75
3RD PLACE
$50

Most of us have spent time thinking about the future. What will life be like and what will our world look like?

For this year's art contest we want you to create a piece of art that shows us what the future looks like to you. What do you hope will change for the better or what do you fear will change for the worse?

Next are some ideas to get you thinking about what type of future you envision. You may imagine a different future from the examples here and that's OK.

What do you think will happen with race relations? Will we all get along or will we become more divided? What about world peace? Do you think countries will get rid of their weapons or that we'll go to war again?

Or maybe you want to show what role you think technology will play in our lives. Do you imagine a post-apocalyptic world where robots have taken over humans? Or do you imagine exciting technological advances improving our lives?

A lot of people are worried about the environment. Do you think we'll have solar panels on every house or do you think we won't be able to stop the harmful effects of global warming?

Before you get started, think, what's most important to you when you think about the future? How can you express your idea in a way that other people will understand what you're saying?
